SCOUT FAIR -- These Scouts put on a demonstration about fire building and starting at the area Scout Fair held Saturday in the National Guard Armory. The exhibits of Scouting were many and varied and proved fascinating to visitors.

118 With F.M.L.

While Congress has authorized the Carter Administration a three-year term for drawing up federal government reforms, Congress is studying a proposal for election reform drawn up by Vice President Walter Mondale.

Substance of this recent proposal is discussed in the now familiar Q-A format from the White House media liaison office.

The 16 Q-As as a background report was released March 22. It will be published in at least two consecutive installments beginning first with this 118:

QUESTION: Why is the Election Reform package being proposed?

ANSWER: The President is concerned about the continued decline of citizen participation in elections. The proposals are an effort to stimulate voter registration and voter participation, to strengthen our campaign financing laws, and to make our election system more responsive.

Nearly 70 million eligible Americans failed to vote in 1976 presidential elections, and in 18 states, fewer than 50 percent of those eligible turned out to vote. The percentage of voting age population casting ballots for President has dropped from 62.8 percent in 1960, to 61.8 in 1964, to 55.4 percent in 1972, and 53.3 percent in 1976. America is behind 20 other democratic nations in voter participation. A survey indicates that about 25 percent of all non-voters are not registered for strictly structural reasons, and about 19 percent of the respondents in another large survey said making it easier to register would be a governmental action most likely to cause them to vote.

QUESTION: What are the main features of the President's proposals?

ANSWER: The President's recommendation to Congress is in five parts. They are:

Voter Registration. The President is submitting a specific bill to Congress to create a method of universal voter registration. Under the proposal, citizens qualified to vote

Pet Vaccination Clinic

The Buckholts FFA Chapter will sponsor a pet vaccination clinic on Tuesday, April 5 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Buckholts vocational agriculture building.

A veterinarian will be on hand to handle the vaccinations for a fee of $3 for each animal. The Chapter urges all owners to have their pets vaccinated.

Polls Await Voters

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Saturday for voters to make their choices in city and school board elections. One town will also vote on incorporation and another will vote on a city charter, among county and area elections.

CAMERON

The city ballot will have four names, with incumbent Jan Luecke up for re-election and the new names of Odessa Poole, Dale Smith, and Tommy Corley.

Poole and Smith are running for councilman, Place 4, and Corley is running unopposed for Place 3. Vacancies were created when councilmen Monroe Fuchs and Gene Lumpkin did not file for re-election.

Voting will be at city hall. In the school election which will be held in the homemaking building on the Yoe campus, three candidates are seeking election to two places on the school board.

Newcomer Mrs. Ed Magre and incumbents Calvin Cobb and Betsy Brown are the candidates for two places.

BUCKHOLTS

Two places on the Buckholts city council will be filled with one in-re-election. Other candidates include Charles Treptow, Evelyn Abel, and Melvin Allison.

Voting in the city election will be at the high school.

In the Buckholts school election incumbents Ray Harris and Gladys Allison seek re-election. Running for the unexpired term of Glenda Ruzicka are Mae Hubred, Kenneth Arnold, and Barbara Kuzel.

The election will be held in the homemaking building.

ROCKDALE

Two races have shaped up for the city election with all new candidates. R. C. (Ronnie) Wiley and H. K. (Pete) Clark filed for the east ward seat and Bill Avrett and Fred D. Marshal filed for the west ward seat.

Rockdale voters will also decide if they want the city to operate on a charter in the election.

Five candidates are on the ballot in the school election for four places on the board. New candidate Jerry Kirk seeks a spot along with incumbents Dr. L. E. Selden, Emory C. Camp, Tom Hormuth and Carroll Glaser.

MILANO

Residents will vote on incorporating the town, and candidates will be on the ballot for mayor and four councilmen.

Charlie Martin seeks the mayor's post and council candidates are Jewel Griffin, Luther Walker, Lee Keen and O. T. Bullock.

Three candidates have filed for three places on the Milano school board -- incumbents Ben Lagrone and John Yoakum, and Kent Thurman Jr.

THORNDALE

Only one candidate filed for city council with two places to be filled. Alfred Lehmann filed for one of the places while Mayor Louis Woelfel Jr. filed for re-election as mayor.

In the school election incumbents Newton Butts, Hugh Caffey Jr. and Gene Northcott have filed.

ROGERS

Mayor W. A. Persky has no opponent for re-election while five candidates are running for three places on the council. Incumbents I. N. Ezzel and Johnnie Klecka seek re-election with opposition from newcomer Ray Hill. L. P. (Butch) Fowler and Johnny Hauerland filed for a one-year unexpired term on the council.

Five candidates are in the running for three places on the school board. They include incumbents Lee Roy Kohring, Randolph Green and Doyle Ray. Also running are Delores Gloria and Judy Hutka.

GAUSE

Wayne Lee and Bill Sparks are up for re-election.

County school trustee incumbents H. L. McMillan and Bennie D. Williams are both up for re-election.

Commissioners Approve Bond Issue For Alcoa

County commissioners Tuesday morning approved two resolutions for the issuance of a total of $18 million in environmental improvement bonds for Alcoa.

One resolution was for the issuance of not more than $1 million and the other for not more than $17 million.

Of the total, some $11,700,000 will be used by Alcoa to pay off bonds issued previously. The new bonds will be sold at a lower interest rate.

The resolutions are in accordance with terms of the Texas Clean Air Financing Act of 1973 permitting certain governmental subdivisions to aid industries in financing air and water pollution abatement projects.

The bonds and all direct and overhead expenses will be reimbursed by Alcoa, County Judge O. B. Harden explained. "Milam County residents should understand that no tax money will be used in any manner in the issuance of the bonds," he added.

Alcoa will use the money for air pollution control facilities at its Rockdale Works.

Seniors Win Alcoa Scholarships

Two seniors from Rockdale High School and Caldwell High School have been named recipients of the $4,000 Alcoa Foundation college scholarships awarded annually to sons and daughters of employees at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works.

Winners of the four-year scholarships are Melissa Wickes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Wickes Jr. of Rockdale, and Mary Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Elliott, Caldwell.

Melissa's father is a senior process engineer, while Mary's father is a craft helper in the mechanical maintenance department at Alcoa's Rockdale facility.

Scholarship winners were selected from 45 applicants representing 12 area high schools who took the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) administered by the College Entrance Examination last fall. In addition to test scores, the local Alcoa Foundation selection board received credentials of each candidate, considering such factors as scholastic achievement and extra curricular activities.

According to Dr. Walter Vincent, Rockdale superintendent and chairman of the selection board, candidates had to be in the upper half of their class or have a C-plus grade average or better at the time of application.

The selection board, made up of eight school superintendents, also named two alternates out of the 14 finalists for the scholarships.

First alternate is Richard Raymond of Yoe High School, Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L.

Car Strikes Bike Riders; Child Suffers Injury

A Rockdale child is in satisfactory condition in a Temple hospital after he was struck by a car around 6 p.m. Monday as he and a friend were bike riding.

Steve Glaser, 8, suffered a possible fracture in the accident which occurred while he and Lee Parsley, 7, were riding their bikes. The car struck both boys but Lee was checked by a doctor and was not injured.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Glaser. The injured youth was transferred from a Rockdale hospital to Scott and White Hospital at Temple Monday night.

Driver of the car was Tracy Wayne McClain of Rockdale. Police are continuing the investigation and had made no ruling in the accident.

Steve is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Fuller of Cameron.

Easter Cantata Sunday

The Cameron Community Choir will present the Easter cantata, "Worthy is the Lamb," at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 3 at the First United Methodist Church in Cameron. The public is invited to attend. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Maurina Corley, choir director at First Methodist.

MOD Offers Scholarship

A scholarship of $500 will be awarded by the March of Dimes to Milam County high school seniors and/or college students who are interested in a career in nursing, speech pathology, occupational therapy, audiology, physical therapy, medicine or social work (medicine).

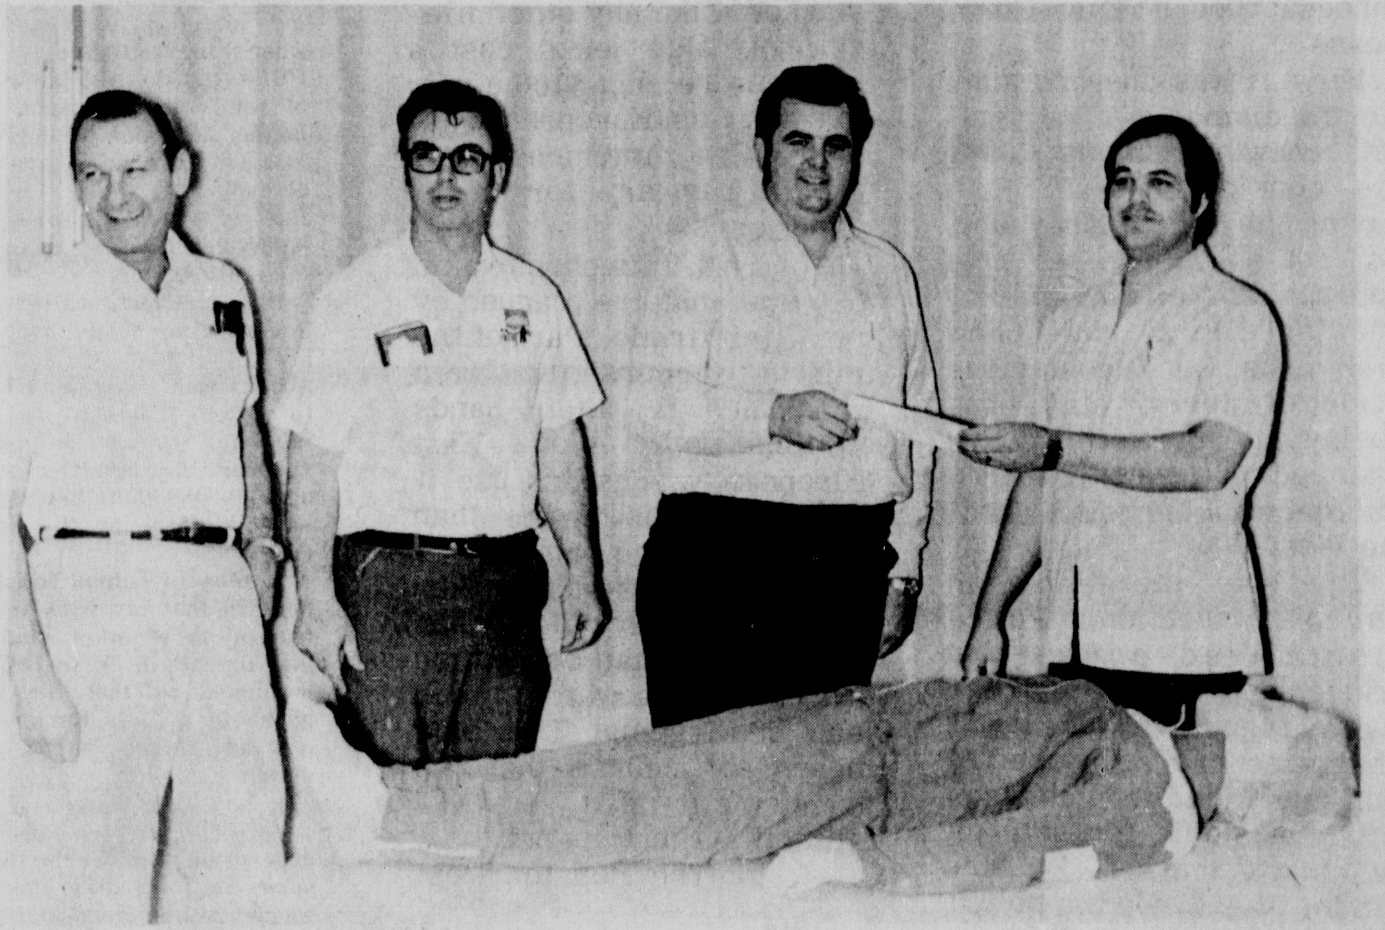

Interested students should contact Mrs. Pearl Krenek, MOD campaign director for an application. She may be reached at 817-697-3027.

Troopers Report Mishaps

DPS troopers reported two minor accidents on Milam highways late Monday night and early Tuesday morning, with no injuries to the drivers.

Trooper Scott Douglas investigated a one-car mishap near Minerva at 11 p.m. Monday when a car driven by Manuel Dowd of Minerva went out of control and left the road.

At 2:45 a.m. Tuesday, a pickup driven by Gary Williams of Copeland hit a calf, killing the animal. That accident was investigated by Trooper Milton Wright.

Ambulance Service. The funds were used to purchase a Resusci-Annie to be used for training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

Reality Is Show Business...

Hollywood's top four out of four Oscars to best actor, actress, supporting actor or actress Monday went to players portraying media people.

Peter Finch posthumously won an Oscar for best actor for his portrayal of the network newscaster who goes mad, "prophetic" and gets aced live on his daily show.

Faye Dunaway won best actress for her work as a hard-nosed media promotor in the same show, "Network." The character she played listed her school as the University of Missouri.

Jason Robards, an established Broadway actor, won best supporting actor for portraying Ben Bradlee, the tough editor of the Washington Post in "All the President's Men."

And Beatrice Straight won best supporting actress as the wife of a "Network" news executive, portrayed by William Holden, who also was nominated for best actor along with Finch.

"All the President's Men" also won Oscars for art direction and sound.

Critics agreed that 1976 was a lean year for big or great moving pictures. The story about the exposure of a President's felony cover-up and the bitter trek for television ratings and finance surfaced because the truth of these stories, touching us all, was bigger than any creative efforts the past year.

We often have said this is the century of the journalist, that the 19th century was the era of the novelist. The Academy even brought in Norman Mailer as one of the presenters, who won a Pulitzer a few years ago for his book-length coverage of political conventions.

The public in effect told Hollywood it wanted realism in the response to these movies. The biggest gates probably went to the sensational, catastrophe movies, but broad support to these films about the drama of current events and how they are communicated to the public.

Reality is show business these days, a tough, cruel business.

What Others Say...

The Bad Jeans

We really should offer our sympathy and understanding to Russia and Yugoslavia -- if we could keep a straight face while doing it. But think, Comrade, how would you feel if your young people were being undermined by contraband goods shipped through the Iron Curtain and bootlegged to innocent young East Europeans?

First it was chewing gum. To the dismay of the Kremlin, chewing gum is taking the country. The USSR is having to watch its young, its not-so-young, its not-young - at - all, mindlessly chewing gum as cows chew their cuds. But Yugoslavia is made of sterner stuff. Yugoslavian authorities have clamped down on the flow of bootleg blue jeans from the West.

You see, there was an Italian connection. Police discovered a wire that bridged the Idria River between Yugoslavia and Italy. That wire had been used to haul great loads of blue jeans into Yugoslavia for sale on the black market. But by seizing the wire, the police left 1,200 pairs of jeans and many bolts of denim in Trieste on the Italian side.

It was one of the biggest crackdowns in bootleg history. Belgrade had been battling this unhealthy traffic by setting high tariffs and other restrictions on clothes imported from the West. Result: A widespread black market. Like any other illegal fix, blue jeans cost a lot -- more than $100 a pair in some East European countries. One American is in jail in Hungary for smuggling jeans.

Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania are plagued by the illicit trade. Part of the miff is, of course, that even when they lay their hands on blue cotton cloth, East European youngsters use it to make jeans rather than Mao jackets and pants.

But Yugoslavia has broken up the bluejean ring. It has ended the Italian connection and closed the watergate on jean bootlegging. This only means, of course that the price on pre-used jeans will climb that much higher.

House Approves 2 Major Bills

In twin bursts of action, the House approved two major bills -- dealing with medical malpractice and coal slurry pipelines.

The malpractice measure, billed as a compromise but not regarded as such by unhappy doctors, goes to the Senate where another round of debate is in store.

Authority for the coal slurry pipelines to condemn land for rights of way previously was approved by the Senate. House amendments send the bill back for additional consideration in the upper chamber.

The malpractice bill establishes a $500,000 limit on total damages recoverable for pain and suffering or loss of future earnings.

It also provides for screening panels to hear malpractice claims, power to suspend incompetent doctors, authority for countersuits against patients in bad faith actions and a two year statute of limitations. Children under 12 would have until they are 14 years old to bring malpractice suits.

The coal slurry pipeline bill will clear the way for transportation of pulverized coal mixed with water 11000 miles from Colorado to the Texas Gulf Coast.

Doctors and trial lawyers clashed bitterly over the malpractice issue, with the lawyers winning the House rounds.

Coal-hauling railroads took a beating in opposing the pipeline bill.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and sent back for new trial five driving while intoxicated convictions based on breath tests.

The State Supreme Court declined to alter a lower court decision permitting an electric rate raise in Arlington by Texas Electric Service Company.

A man who served more time in the Dallas County jail than his original sentence ordered finally got a release -- through the Court of Criminal Appeals.

AG Opinions

Occupation taxes may be used to support areas of public school finance other than the available school fund if they benefit "public free schools," Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The state may claim matching federal funds under the social security act when the amount of the average monthly grant for the aid to families with dependent children program is greater than $32 but less than $37.72 per recipient.

Lists of civil service examination scores are not excepted from required public disclosure under the open records act.

A bill prohibiting persons from being licensed both as commercial fishermen and fish farmers is not constitutional.

There is no constitutional prohibition against establishment of a department on the status of women in the attorney general's office.

The community assistance funding formula of Texas Youth Council does not violate the state constitution.

Premiums on group insurance coverage for reserve deputy sheriffs may be paid by a county only if the insurance coverage is limited to the risk of loss for medical expenses voluntarily assumed by the county.

Brown Choice

Gov. Dolph Briscoe caught most observers by surprise in naming an aide, Reagan V. Brown of Bryan, as new Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, succeeding John C. White.

Brown quickly won unanimous confirmation of the Texas Senate and moved into office only a couple of weeks after White was sworn in as deputy U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

At about 2 p.m. March 14, my camper-trailer caught fire while my family and I were traveling on Highway 190 from Rogers to Temple. I stopped in front of the Adams Ranch about 6 miles west of Rogers and attempted to extinguish the fire. Although I was unsuccessful and the trailer was for all intents and purposes totally destroyed, a number of good citizens of the area stopped and rendered invaluable aid.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fillmore from Cameron were some of the first folks on the scene as well as an unidentified motorist who gave me his fire extinguisher when mine was depleted. The Fillmores donated their jug of water to the cause, and in the confusion the jug was lost. In case they have not already received it, I would like for the Fillmores to know that a new jug is in the mail to them.

Bill Sherman called the Rogers fire department on his CB radio while Mrs. Adams was using her phone to insure that help was on the way. She also helped to reassure my petrified youngsters and their bewildered pets while the fire raged.

A note of human interest here is that my wife asked two or three other motorists to call in on their CB. It turned out that they had no radio -- only the antenna; our society has a new status symbol!

It is indeed reassuring to know that travelers can still depend on good samaritans such as folks like these whenever the need arises. Please give all these folks a great big thanks from the Walkers.

Sincerely,
Prosper Walker

A new feature this year will be an authentic re-enactment of a Civil War camp and battles with tents, horses, wagons, and 200 soldiers from the Company C. of Hoods Brigade and Good's Texas Battery of Fort Worth.

The Art Center will exhibit an outstanding collection of Old Master paintings from Sarah Campbell Blaffer Gallery including 14-18th century artists.

Awards Banquet Held For Junior Historians

"Free Enterprise in a Free Country" was the theme for the annual awards banquet given for members of the Junior Historian Chapters in the secondary schools of Bosque, Hill, Milam, Navarro, Limestone, Falls, McLennan, and Bell Counties.

More than 450 Junior Historians and guests were present. The dinner was held at the Ridgewood Country Club Thursday, March 24. Speaker for the evening was the well-known management executive, F. J. Spencer, president of International Management Services of Houston.

"Freedom," Spencer pointed out, "is not license." Responsible people must exercise this freedom but be ever watchful of the individual rights of others, he said. He asked the students and guests to be acutely aware of the rights accorded them at birth: right to life, the right to sustain life, the rights acquired by cooperation with others; but, he said, "maintain eternal vigilance to protect these rights."

More than 25 student members of the Yoe High School Junior Historian Chapter, Miss Ada Margaret Smith, sponsor, were in attendance at the dinner. Members given awards for their contribution to the Junior Historian movement were: Joe Schmidt, Richard Raymond, Janet Angell, Lori Martin, Judy Tomek, Brian Wilkerson, Carl Bradley, Tina Posival, Kelvin Kelley, Lisa Elmore.

The event was sponsored by the Heart O' Texas Study of American Heritage. Walter Parks, Meridian School superintendent is president; Mrs. Fae L. Weaver, social studies coordinator, Waco schools is vice president and Mrs. Kay Lane of Clifton is secretary. Max McClaren is the Milam County member of the executive committee of the Heritage Group.

Miss Smith was publicly commended for her more than 25 years as a Junior Historian Chapter sponsor in Cameron.

Calvert Has Annual Springtime Pilgrimage

The Fifth Annual Calvert Springtime Pilgrimage will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 2 and 3.

Located 45 miles north of Bryan on Highway 6, Calvert is said to have the finest collection of Victorian in the state. This will be the fifth year that people in the town have opened their homes for people to tour.

Included on the tour this year will be seven homes in all stages of restoration, four historic churches and two rooms of the historical museum.

Pilgrimage monies are donated toward the completion of the museum, which was built as the Calvert jail in the 1800's. Built out of brick, at a cost of $12,000 and complete with living quarters for the sheriff, it was said to be one of the finest jails in the state at that time. Since then it has been used as a private residence and a hotel.

Also on the tour, located about 30 miles from Calvert, in Wheelock, is the historic Cavitt House. Built in the 1800's, over a period of ten years, the 11-room house was used as a stagecoach stop at one time.

It has been carefully restored over a three-year period, with the antique furnishings refinished and preserved. Built by slaves who hand-planed floors and hand-carved the woodwork, the windownpanes were poured at the site and the fireplace is built of handmade brick.

There are also many other sights to see and antique stores in which to browse in this small town that once had the largest cotton gin in the world.

Many of the homes on the tour are within a short walking distance of one another. Parking facilities for buses will be provided.

Tickets are $3 and may be purchased at the theater on Main Street (Highway 6), at which time a brochure of homes and maps will be provided.

Fur further information please call Sarah Prince, 713 - 297-3687, Lake Jackson, Texas.

MR. & MRS. DERWOOD COBB

Farm Bureau National Affairs Conference Held March 21-25

Two leaders from Milam County Farm Bureau participated in the Texas Farm Bureau National Affairs conference March 21-25 in Washington, D. C. and Williamsburg, Va.

Attending the conference were Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Cobb of Cameron. Derwood is a member of the board of directors of the Milam Co. Farm Bureau and is chairman of the National Affairs Committee on the board and also chairman of the Cotton Advisory Committee. Mrs. Cobb serves on the Milam County Farm Bureau Womens Committee.

The local FB leaders were among 240 farmers and ranchers from all over Texas who attended the conference. Purpose of the conference was to give the county leaders an insight into workings of the national government, to familiarize them with crucial national issues, and to strengthen relationships with their Congressional representatives.

In addition to sightseeing in the nation's capital and taking a side trip to Colonial Williamsburg, Va., the conferees met with their Congressmen and Senators and visited with top leaders in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They also received briefings by the legislative staff of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

At dinner sessions, the group heard addresses by Robert Delano of Virginia, vice president of the AFBF; and Carrol Chaloupka, Daltart, president of TFB.

Sites of interest visited in Washington included the U. S. Capitol, Supreme Court Building, Library of Congress, Ford's Theater, National Gallery of Art, The Smithsonian Institute, the Washington Monument, The White House, and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. Across the Potomac in Virginia, they visited Mount Vernon and Arlington National Cemetery with stops at the John F. Kennedy gravesite and the Tomb of the Unknowns.

The group went by chartered buses to Williamsburg where they spent two nights and a day. They visited many of the 88 taverns, public buildings and private homes, that have been restored to what they were in the days when Williamsburg was the colonial capital of Virginia. The Texans also visited nearby Jamestown where the first English Colony was established in the New World.

Work Starts On TJC Project

Construction has begun on a new maintenance building and preliminary work is under way on plans for a new vocational - technical and general administration building at Temple Junior College.

A report on the two construction projects highlighting the March meeting of the TJC board of trustees. Dr. Marv Felder, college president, reported to trustees that ground has been broken for the maintenance building which will be built south of the Arnold Student Union Building.

Johnnie L. Vanicek Construction Co. of Temple is contractor for the project which will cost $105,342. The new structure will replace the war-surplus building which now houses the maintenance operation.

Included in the new 4,000 square foot building will be warehouse and storage space for supplies, a shop area and office for the maintenance supervisor. There also will be a covered fenced area for vehicles and mowers and the project will include a small parking lot and some street paving. The new building is scheduled for completion by the end of the summer.

Architects are working on plans for the proposed vocational-technical and general administration building. Plans for the project will be presented for approval at the April meeting of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, which must approve all plans for new construction.

Trustees have authorized the sale of $425,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction of the project. The proposed building will have about 15,000 square feet and is part of the master plan adopted in 1976.

Trustees also learned that TJC will receive an additional $175,000 this year for vocational - technical programs. Dr. Felder reported that the governor has signed a bill releasing some $8 million in federal funds in the current state appropriation bill. Release of the funds will allow for full contingency funding for vocational-technical programs for 1976-77.

Lamb Tops Spring List At Markets

Lamb promises "feature prices" on some cuts as supplies are increasing for the season at Texas grocery markets. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, reports.

Lamb "specials" will include loin and rib lamb chops, leg of lamb and shoulder roasts, she said.

At beef counters, best values appear on chuck cuts, while good buys are available on a number of steaks for broiling and rib roasts. Other good choices are ground beef, round steak and beef liver, the specialist said.

In poultry departments, fryer chickens have reasonable prices -- and turkey prices make them a good protein value with large birds providing the lowest cost per serving, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

At pork counters, ham is a popular seasonal choice, but consumers should read labels carefully, because "ham" has many meanings, the specialist cautioned. Pork values in some markets are in whole pork loins -- while others are featuring Boston butt -- roasts, end chops, quarter -- loins cut into chops, loin end roasts, smoked picnics, bacon, frankfurters and liver.

At fruit counters, high-quality winter pears are "big" -- while other economical choices are oranges, grapefruit and apples.

In vegetable buying, items in good supply at the most economical prices include broccoli, carrots, head lettuce, potatoes, collards, mustard, turnips, rutabagas and spinach.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS

Pasta products are featured -- and they make excellent protein extenders or stretchers for more economical meals. Remember to buy enriched products, as they are more nutritious and usually cost no more.

Sharp-Tracy Friendship

By Mrs. Leroy Guillote

Folks in our area were saddened by the sudden death of Mr. L. A. Petty. Mr. Petty suffered a stroke Tuesday evening and was rushed to St. Edward Hospital, and passed away Saturday without ever regaining consciousness. Mr. Petty was born and raised in Sharp and had lived in Sharp all his life. Services were held in the Sharp Presbyterian Church Monday morning, with burial in the Sharp Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Brockenbush of Houston spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Emory Brockenbush.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thiele of Taylor spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Phillips recently visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roesler.

Miss Linda Ellender and Mrs. Rosa Lee Ellender spent the weekend in Winnsboro with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Purcell and daughters, Lee Ann and Danielle.

Dewey Pope and Billy of Jacksonville, Florida spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Guillote, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ellender and family.

J. D. Pope had surgery on his hip at the Breckenridge Hospital in Austin. Mr. Pope has been in the hospital for eight weeks after breaking his hip in a fall.

The Davis store in Sharp was again the target of an attempted break-in last week, with a large glass pane broken behind the iron bars.

Ludwig's Bizarre Castle Fills Bavarian Coffers

Combine a dash of Richard Wagner with a slice of Disneyland and the result is an improbable concoction called Neuschwanstein castle in Germany.

Perched high in the Bavarian Alps like a set for a children's fairy tale, the castle displays a profusion of turrets, casements, and palisades that would bring tears of joy to the eyes of a pastry chef.

It also brought tears to the eyes of King Ludwig II's financial advisers. The beloved but eccentric Bavarian monarch paid 6,180,047 gold marks for the castle along, to say nothing of the furnishings.

PAYS MODERN DIVIDENDS

Located near the town of Fussen, the castle has more than repaid the investment, earning millions of dollars as a museum and tourist attraction. The Bavarian government recently spent about $420,000 on a retaining wall to keep parts of the famous landmark from slipping into a nearby ravine, the National Geographic Society says.

Ludwig reigned from 1864 until his death in 1886. An eccentric bachelor, he received few guests in his extravagant hideaway. He preferred to sleep away the day, rising for breakfast in the evening. He would later dine on delicacies like truffle-stuffed peacock about 2 a.m., then have a light supper at dawn before retiring.

Infatuated with the wide, romantic operas of Richard Wagner, Ludwig built a lake complete with swans into one of the upper rooms of the castle as a homage to "Lohengrin."

On another floor he constructed a rocky cave like the one in Wagner's opera "Tannhauser."

On moonlit nights the king often paced the castle's ramparts or galloped through the courtyard, pretending to be Siegfried or Parsifal, heroes of Germanic legend and characters in his favorite composer's works.

WANTED MORE CASTLES

A building mania took possession of Ludwig even before Neuschwanstein was finished. He started work on Linderhof and Herrenchiemsee castles, two more extravaganzas. "Building is only hobby and my life's happiness depends on it," the king told a horrified court treasurer.

The lavishness of Herrenchiemsee, 45 miles from Munich, staggers the visitor today just as it did the taxpayer of Ludwig's time. It has been described as a "hyperthyroid version of Versailles with more gilt, glitter, and chandeliers than the original." A hall of mirrors in the castle measures 246 feet long and was once lighted by 2,188 candles.

A desperate attempt by Ludwig to raise more money for the two projects was blocked.

Ludwig's eccentricities and growing indebtedness proved his undoing. A panel of psychiatrists declared him officially insane, and on June 12, 1886 he received word in Neuschwanstein that his uncle had taken over as regent.

Ludwig was exiled to another castle, but lived there only a day. His body was found the following morning in a nearby lake. The mystery of his death was never solved, but Neuschwanstein still stands as a monument to a man who tried to turn his dream world into reality.

MAD KING LUDWIG lived here. Monument to one man's whimsy, the storybook castle of Neuschwanstein rises in the foothills of the Alps above a forest near Fussen, Bavaria. King Ludwig II's extravagance in building the castle earned him the epithet "Mad Ludwig," but today Neuschwanstein's value as a tourist magnet far surpasses its original cost.

Governor Praises DDC Course

Reminding Texans that traffic safety is ultimately the responsibility of each individual driver, Gov. Dolph Briscoe proclaimed April 3-9 Defensive Driving Week.

The week is a national observance designed to focus public attention on the need for safer driving habits as well as to encourage enrollment in the National Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course.

"Last year 3,200 Texans died in car accidents," noted Hugh L. Scott, president of the Texas Safety Association. "Had they been Defensive Driving Course graduates, that figure could have been one-third lower."

An eight-hour, classroom course, DDC teaches crash avoidance techniques used by professional drivers. Studies show that DDC graduates had 32 percent fewer accidents the year after taking the course as they did before.

Four hundred-fifty agencies across the state regularly present the course under the supervision of NSC and the Texas Safety Association. DDC teaches drivers to recognize traffic hazards, to understand the defenses, against them and how to act in time to avoid accidents.

"In addition to a special textbook, films and other visual aids are used to analyze accidents and their causes as well as to determine how they could have been avoided," Scott explained.

Candidate for School Board Becky Magre

I have resided in Cameron for over 10 years, am married and the mother of two children, ages 3 and 6. I have a B.A. from Duke University and a M.Ed. from Texas A&M University. Prior to starting my own family I taught in Cameron for two years. My community activities have included working with the Girl Scouts, United Fund and the Cameron Public Library.

I believe my qualifications and experience will enable me to use my time and efforts to assist in securing the best possible education for the children in our district. Our school system has just completed a self-evaluation report and 5 year plan. I have studied these and approve of the over-all goals, although I find it appalling that our school was dropped from accreditation by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools several years ago, and these plans make no mention of future qualification. Also, I would like to see more definite deadlines set for the accomplishment of the stated goals. Personally I feel the most pressing needs are:

- 1) an immediate solution to the after school traffic problems
- 2) repairs to the interior of Ada Henderson
- 3) an art program, expanded music program and a trained physical education teacher for the lower grades
- 4) reduction of class size toward levels recommended by the TEA
- 5) a policy involving the public reporting of the net, gross, and use of fund raising projects carried out in our system

76 Rookie Of The Year To Compete At College Station

COLLEGE STATION Australian Vern Schuppan has entered the Texas Grand Prix at Texas World Speedway on Saturday, April 2. Schuppan will be driving a Wildcat, built by the incomparable George Bignolli, with a DGS modified Offenhauser engine. The car is known to be very fast.

Schuppan has to be considered one of the leading international drivers having competed in road races in many countries. He was the "Rookie of the Year" in the 1976 Indianapolis 500 when he drove a Dan Gurney prepared Jorgensen Eagle to an 18th place finish.

He finished eighth in the first race this season at Ontario, Calif. and is currently eighth in the National Championship points standing for the Citicorp Cup.

Increase Noted In Hunter Safety

For the first time in the six-year history of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's hunter safety program, more than 10,000 persons were certified safe hunters in Texas in 1976.

"Last year was our most successful yet, as volunteer instructors around the state certified 10,043 men, women and teenagers," said T. D. Carroll, P&WD hunter safety coordinator, "and if figures for the first two months of 1977 are an indicator, we will surpass the 1976 record."

More than 1,600 students were certified safe hunters

The aged life preserver which has been sitting in your attic all winter probably needs some attention before use in another season of boating and other water sports.

Water safety officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department remind boaters that game wardens check personal flotation devices (PFDs) on state waters and the devices are required to be in serviceable condition.

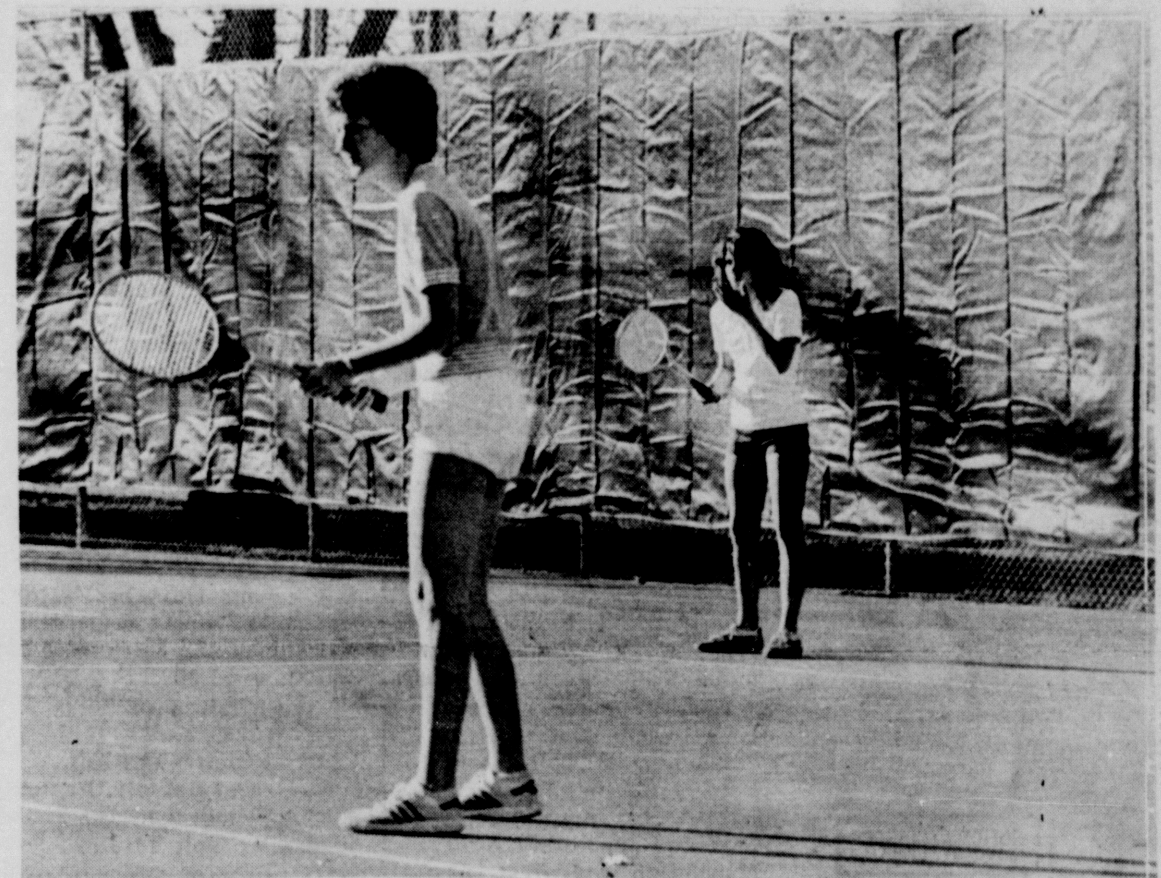

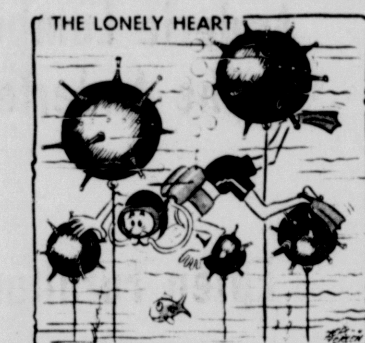

Fabric on PFDs wears after years of service. Yank on the straps. If the fabric tears, it's rotten and the jacket or cushion should be replaced.

Many lifesaving devices are filled with kapok, a material which remains buoyant only as long as it's dry. The kapok bags inside should be light and fluffy. If the preserver feels heavy one of the bags may have ruptured and be waterlogged.

As the weather warms, Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens plan to devote more time and personnel to patrolling Texas' inland and coastal waters.

During the summer months the most common offenses wardens come across are failure to have proper number of PFDs for each person on board a boat, and lack of serviceability of the devices.

THE DOUBLES team of Helen Chandler and Judith Moore stand ready, awaiting their Rockdale Competition.

School Board Candidate

Betsy Brown

For the past six years I have served as a member of the Cameron Independent School District Board. During those years the school has made very solid improvements of which I am proud. I would like to be a part of future plans and work of the district. As soon as we know the finance laws that will be handed us by the current legislature, I am eager to begin the remodeling of our buildings. With the extreme financial hardships that our farmers and ranchers have been suffering the last few years, I have felt that the board must not raise school taxes; therefore, our school improvements have been slow. However the remodeled gym, science and math rooms show what can be done with our very sound old buildings. The quality of our scholastic program has seen much improvement such as the upgraded reading program, a return towards basic mathematics, and a music program we can all take pride in. I have enjoyed working with the other members of the board, the administration, and the teachers; there is much I would like to do yet. May I please have your vote this Saturday.

2 Pastors Return From India

Rev. H. M. Bowley, president of the United Gospel Tabernacle Fellowship and pastor of Cameron Gospel Tabernacle, and Rev. Robert H. Glenn, Jr., pastor of the Evangelical Brethren Church of Buckholts recently returned from two weeks of mission conventions in India.

The tour covered over 25,000 miles, touched three continents and four countries outside the United States, thus carrying the pair half way around the world and far across southern India into the interior villages where few American tourists are ever seen.

The mission conventions visited by Rev. Bowley and Rev. Glenn were by special invitation of Rev. P. M. Samuel, president of the Pentecostal Churches of God of India. The conventions consisted of three services daily with two additional services for natives only. Rev. Bowley and Rev. Glenn ministered to more than ten thousand people in the large convention the first week and more than one thousand people in the smaller convention the second week.

Rev. Glenn advised that the American people should be very thankful for what they have in America and be very willing to protect it as both pastors are very glad to be back in America and Milam County.

Lighter cars

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Good and bad things will happen if cars are made lighter, University of Texas researchers have found.

In a study made by a team from UT Austin's Graduate School of Business, it was discovered that if the weight of U.S. cars were limited to 2,500 pounds, less energy would be used to make and run cars, fewer scarce resources would be exhausted to make steel and aluminum, and pollutants resulting from the manufacturing process would be reduced.

But the economic impact of such reductions would put one million persons out of work, resulting in a loss of income of more than $12 billion, the UT study revealed.

Low-Income Workers Due Credit

More low-income workers can qualify for the Earned Income Credit of up to $400 as a result of changes in eligibility requirements made by the 1976 Tax Reform Act.

The Internal Revenue Service said today that 270,432 persons in the southern half of Texas claimed the credit for 1975 and received $57,101,000. IRS district director Robert M. McKeever said that, of this number, 22,822 did not earn enough to file a return in 1975, however they did file a tax return in order to claim the credit which averaged $240.

To qualify for the credit, a worker's total adjusted gross income must be less than $8,000. Workers must also have paid over half the cost of keeping up a home in the U. S.

HONORED - Charles Brady, FFA photographer for many years, was made an honorary member of the Yoe FFA Chapter at its annual banquet.

Disabled Vets Due Training

Veterans with service-connected disabilities of 10 percent or more may be entitled to training under the Veterans Administration vocational rehabilitation program, Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Director, reminded today.

Nearly 28,000 disabled veterans received training under the program in fiscal year 1976 and 800,000 veterans have participated since World War II.

Veterans with disability rated 10 percent or more who are found to require rehabilitation can receive up to four years of training. Eligibility for training is usually nine years after discharge and under certain conditions this may be extended four years.

A new law provides seriously disabled veterans training beyond these termination dates when this is found to be necessary, Coker noted.

If necessary, training may be taken in special facilities or in the veteran's own home.

THE NATION'S FIRST MODERN WEATHER REPORTING SERVICE WAS DEVELOPED IN THE 1870'S BY THE ARMY SIGNAL CORPS, USING TELEGRAPH LINES FOR REPORTING SIMULTANEOUS WEATHER OBSERVATIONS TO WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEKALB AWARD went to Donny Marek at the annual FFA banquet held March 23.

Tips To Help You

You may be able to save some money by buying a new television set. Today's solid-state color TV sets can use substantially less energy than the sets of earlier years. Some people save as much as $15 a year.

There's an increasing trend toward special purpose radio receivers these days. In addition to music on AM and FM, you can get weather service, short wave, police, public service, citizen's band and television sound.

In addition to stationary and vehicular citizen's band radio sets, you can also get mobile handheld units for hiking, hunting and camping, the Electronic Industries Association points out.

Don't forget to take your portable radio on your camping trip.

REVOLUTIONARY investment

It's been 200 years since Americans were first asked to take stock in America.

And take stock they did.

Our brand-new citizens invested over $27,000,000 in their new country's fight for freedom. And it sure paid off.

Today, over 9 1/2 million modern Americans invest in their future as well as their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds are safe, dependable, and profitable. And when you join the Payroll Savings Plan, saving becomes automatically regular, too.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're a revolutionary way to save.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Drop Noted In Cattle Slaughter

A noted livestock marketing specialist points out that sometimes certain marketing information gets misused, causing confusion to both producers and consumers.

So Dr. Ed Uvacek with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service attempts to set the record straight.

"Despite some claims about a large supply of beef at the present time, actual figures show this is not the case," Uvacek says.

"Federally inspected slaughter through March 5 was running 3 percent below a year ago. This came despite 10 percent larger marketings of fed cattle in January and another increase in February. Obviously, a substantial drop has occurred in cow and nonfed cattle slaughter so far this year," explains the specialist.

All this adds up to the following: total beef production will be down the first half of 1977, fed cattle supplies will probably be light for March and April, and nonfed beef production will also be light, especially this spring.

"With this information in hand, it looks like a tightening of beef supplies and some strengthening in the cattle market," says Uvacek.

Help children put away their toys by making it part of the game. They'll begin to develop a good habit.

Greenbugs Wait For Grain, Corn

By Bill McCutchen

Greenbugs are sitting on clods in the fields it seems waiting for emergence of grain sorghum and corn seedlings. Greenbugs have been present in wheat and oats for several weeks but generally below economic thresholds.

Greenbug presence on grain sorghum seedlings should not be taken lightly. Greenbug presence and visual damage is the only criteria to spraying seedling grain sorghum.

I have checked quite a few fields since March 18 and in most of them populations were increasing as evidenced by many small greenbugs and few if any beneficial insects.

Treatment has been necessary on considerable acreage already this year. Treatment has been necessary on resistant varieties, in some instances, and where Di Syston was put down with the seed at rates of 5 and 6 pounds per acre.

This brings up a significant question. Greenbug resistance to organophosphates including Di Syston has been noted for several years on the high plains of Texas. Is this the problem in this case or is the Di Syston only temporarily unavailable to the plant? I don't know.

I have had a lot of questions about whether or not to spray. Guidelines are as follows: spray when there is visible damage with colonies of greenbugs on plants from emergence to 6 inches in height.

If these conditions are present and you don't control them several possibilities exist. The first is stand loss, the next is stunting and delayed maturity.

I am sure most of you recall the situation 3 years ago with the sugarcane aphid when some plants were 10 inches tall and others 3 to 4 inches tall in the same drill following sugarcane aphid infestations.

Greenbug damage can do the same thing causing uneven bloom across the field and likely leading to midge problems later.

Horse Short Course Set At A&M

Equine enthusiasts who register for the Horse Short Course at Texas A&M University, April 4-5, will have an opportunity to update their horse production techniques, according to B. F. Yates, Texas Agricultural Extension Service horse specialist.

The Horse Short Course is a feature of the Texas Animal Agriculture Conference, Yates, chairman for the horse section, reminds.

Other short courses are being offered in beef, dairy and swine as well as special programs relating to range, pasture and forage production. "A Look Into the Future" is the theme for the Animal Agriculture Conference, which opens with a general session for registrants of all short courses.

Fewer Cattle On Feed . . . Sheep Feeding Shows Increase . . . Be On The Look Out . . . Eradication Is Goal.
Texas cattle feeders continue to reduce numbers of cattle on feed, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

As of March 1, there were 1,520,000 head of cattle and calves on feed in Texas. This is 16 per cent below a year ago and is eight per cent below a month ago.

During February, cattle feeders placed 226,000 head into their lots; this is 23 per cent below February of a year ago and 28 per cent under the previous month.

In the seven major feeding states (Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska), cattle and calves on feed were down seven per cent from a year ago.

SHEEP FEEDING IN TEXAS shows a five per cent increase over a year ago. As of March 1, there were 128,000 head of sheep and lambs on feed. However, this figure is 20 per cent below the number on feed as of Jan. 1.

Sheep and lambs on feed are those intended for slaughter being fed a ration of grain or other concentrates or on succulent pastures and expected within the next three months to produce a carcass that will grade good or better.

BE ON THE LOOK OUT for these important crop reports due in the coming weeks.

April 14 is the date for the prospective plantings for 1977, based on April 1 conditions.

May 10 is the date for an important winter wheat production forecast based on May 1 conditions. And June 8 is the date for the winter wheat production as of June 1 conditions.

ERADICATION OF THE SCREWORM forever from Texas is the goal of a statewide program now in progress.

Livestock producers are being asked for their complete cooperation this year in order to accomplish this goal. As a livestock producer, you are asked to:

1. Check your livestock regularly
2. Treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm-control remedies
3. Delay surgery on livestock as long as possible
4. Submit suspected samples of screwworms to the fly lab at Mission

The opportunity to wipe out the pest once and for all has never been better. A cold winter, a new strain of screwworm fly, and the new fly plant in operation in Mexico offer an excellent set of conditions with which to eradicate the screwworm.

None of this can happen, though, without the cooperation of every livestock producer. It will take the combined and continued efforts of every cattleman to make this the year that the screwworm is finally eradicated.

Cotton has again assumed the number one position in value of Texas farm crops. The value of the crop for the 1976 season was more than $1 billion. Upland cotton was worth $1,010,880, American Pima cotton was worth $4,800,000, and cottonseed had a value of $119,354,000. Add that together and the 1976 cotton crop was worth $1,135,034,000. That represents one-third of the total value of the nation's entire cotton crop.

Grain sorghum, which has been the number one cash crop for the past few years, slipped into number two position with a 1976 value of only $647,309,000, or about one-half the worth of cotton. Sorghum value in 1976 was about $250,000,000 under the 1975 crop, reflecting lower prices and lower acreage. Still, the 1976 figure is about half of the nation's total grain sorghum value.

Corn ranked third in total value in the State. That crop had a cash value of $450,000,000, which is $150,000,000 more than the previous year.

Wheat is in fourth place with a 1976 value of $325,710,000. This is $120,000,000 below that of the previous year, again due to lower prices to producers.

A crop you probably wouldn't consider in the top five money makers is nonetheless in fifth place. That crop is hay. The value of the hay crop in the state for 1976 was $260,445,000.

Naman Raps Farm Policy

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco issued a statement today condemning the farm policy recommendations of the Carter Administration. The state farm organization president termed the proposals released as "shocking" and "demoralizing."

"The price and income support programs, as announced, amount to a repudiation of the 'cost of production' commitments which candidate Carter made during the campaign. They reflect a total lack of understanding of what is needed to assure a healthy agriculture and an abundant supply of food," Naman said.

"Texas farmers are shocked and demoralized to think that they would be written off by an administration which carried the rural areas of Texas because of its strong commitment to farm income improvement.

"They are disgusted that they are being offered nothing more than a continuation of a 'boom and bust' type agriculture, a continuation of the Butz policies.

"There is little new in the Carter Administration recommendations, but rather a promise for more farm bankruptcies and grave economic repercussions in the rural areas.

"If the farm program recommendations are the work of economists in the Council of Economic Advisors, rather than Secretary Bergland, as has been reported, then we don't need a Secretary of Agriculture. If Secretary Bergland is relegated to being a pawn of the Council of Economic Advisors, he should save face by resigning. If they are his policies, he should immediately stump the country explaining to farmers how prices at less than 50 percent of a fair price will keep them in business," Naman continued.

"Texas farmers are insulted with such gimmicks in the new program as the 'sinking floor' that will drop price supports 5 percent when there is overproduction and a floor is needed.

"They are irate over the the new farm recommendations which could impose a cap at less than the cost of production. The Carter farm policy recommendations are irresponsible and violate the trust which the Administration should have kept with the American farmer."

Cabbage farmers were lucky this year with prices, but as with other Texas producers, unlucky with the weather. Muddy fields have slowed harvesting of winter vegetables in South Texas, and pasture growth has been retarded by cold temperatures in the rest of the state, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reported.

The Bighorn ram is the only wild sheep native to North America.
